Duffy has received a letter from his son, Sergeant Francis Duffy, who went to France with the 340th Field Artillery, stating that he has entered the University of Besancon, France, for a four months course of study similar to that followed in the University of Arizona, before entering the army as a volunteer. Francis is a native son of Nogales, where he is beloved by a host of friends, all of whom join in wishing him success, always.

Recently Nogales was visited by Mr. A. F. Gross, John Costello, George Clark and C. L. Scheler, of Patagonia, who came to transact business connected with the sale of the American Boy and Costello group of mines, to Mr. Gross, who will at once develop the properties on a big scale. The American Boy was owned by Jens Peterson and George Clark, and the Costello group by Messrs. Costello and Scheler. The first payment on the properties was made by Mr. Gross.

Hon. William A. Moer, State Land Commissioner, has been elected president of the Burk-Leader Oil Company, in which W. W. Ford, W. H. Smith, and other well known, successful business men are interested, financially. Arrangements are being made to at once commence drilling for oil on the company's property in the now famous Texas fields. With "Honest Bill" Moer, of Tempe, at the head of the Burk-Leader Oil Company, stockholders at all times will receive a "run for their money." No one who gambles, should expect more. Frank Reagan, sales agent for the company, is at the Montezuma hotel. See him and place your order for stock now.

S. M. (Uncle Tom) Wills, from Royal City, in the Canille country, this county, where his mines are located, is a business visitor in Nogales. Uncle Tom says he has the world by the tail, with a down hill pull, and is now on Easy Street. Tom is a guest at the Montezuma hotel, where he is kept busy telling his friends of the wonders of his "bonanza," and the great things he is going to do for Santa Cruz county, soon after returns are received from four or five carloads of high-grade ore ready for shipment to the customs smelter. At Uncle Tom's pleasant Royal City home the latch-string is always out. If he invites you to his home for a week-end visit, go. You'll never regret it.

PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, by the combined action of a number of the public spirited organizations and citizens of the town of Nogales, plans have been made for the entertainment on next Monday, April 21st, 1919, of those members of our county who were fortunate in being chosen to serve our country during the World War and who are now present in Nogales, and Santa Cruz county.

AND, WHEREAS, it is desired that all the residents of Nogales be given an opportunity to publicly express their appreciation of the sacrifice our soldiers have made during this war and their realization of the spirit displayed by our own contingent, and it is necessary that a holiday be observed by all of our stores and commercial institutions for that purpose.

Now, by virtue of the authority vested in me by law, I George H. Fiedler, Mayor of the town of Nogales, Arizona, do hereby proclaim Monday, April 21st, 1919, a legal holiday, and direct that all stores and commercial establishments of the town be closed promptly at noon and kept closed throughout the afternoon.

G. H. FIEDLER, Mayor.
